

23 OCTOBER 2006

Generations, South Africa's number one daily drama, is sad to hear of Lebo Mathosa's tragic death.

Executive Producer Mfundu Vundla says: "Lebo was a bright light that was extinguished before its time. She was loved by everyone who worked with her and had amazing talent as a singer and actress".

Lebo played the role of Seipati, in Generations in 2000.

Co-workers at Generations were deeply shocked and upset to hear of Lebo's death.

Sophie Ndaba says: "I knew Lebo while she was still singing with Boom Shaka. Even then she was an amazing young woman. She had a big heart and that is how I will remember her."

Generations expresses its deepest condolences to Lebo's family and friends.
